RIVER GORGEI

For Many Miles; Great Damage Expected-Mist Disastrons Break-up in Many Years is Expected When Ice Begins to Run Out-Some Gorges are Said to Be 25 Miles in Length,

Wheeling, W. Va., January 14 With ice gorges of greater or less extent in the upper Ohio river between Pittsburg and Parkersburg, a distance of two hundred miles, river men are looking forward to the probability of the most disastrous breakup in the history of steamboating on western waters.

The only chance of averting great loss of floating property when the ice goes out is in the possibility of there being a period of warm weather for week or longer before the thaw or rain brings the rise that will carry out the great masses of ice now clogging the stream almost uninterrupt-

The first gorge below Pittsburg is at Brown Island, just above Steubenville. Both of these gorges are of great extent, and form a serious men-

The longest and most dangerous gorge in the upper river, however, is the one starting at the McMechen dam seven miles below Wheeling, and extending past this city up the river to Wellsburg, a distance of about twenty-five miles.

At Kline's bar four miles above Clarington, there is another gorge but it is only three or four miles in length. Still another at Grape Island. just above St. Marys is of about the is open. Below Parkersburg at Dam 19, Little Hockingport, there is a years. gorge that extends nearly to Parkers-

Farther down the river there are other gorges, but none of such extent and danger as those on the upper reaches of the river.

Steamboat men are making desperate efforts to prepare steamers and wharf boats and other floating craft Average 23.94 for the coming run of ice, but that the passing of the ice will cause considerable losses is almost inevitable.

Hunt's absence the congregation of the Third Street Church that at Bruno Island. Next is the one will have the opportunity to again hear that matchless preacher and college president, Rev. Ezra T. Franklin of Barbourville.

> By the energetic efforts of the pastor a complete director of the churches membership, the various organizations of the church a calendar of special events, together with many other interesting features, has just been issued and is being placed in ev ery home of the church.

At the evening service last Sunday the pastor announced that the big drive to lift the old debt of the church same length. From St. Marys to Park- had been entirely successful and that ersburg, about twenty miles, the river the church could now boast of being out of debt the first time in many

MUST PRESENT VACCINATION CERTIFICATE

At the present writing there have peen no cases of smallpox developed in the city so far as known, however, as some of our neighboring cities seem to be beset with the plague, it is wise that the County City Boards of Health are taking a firm hold of the matter and requiring vaccination of all unable to present vaccination cer-
